

UTAH BASIC CIVICS TEST GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

As required by Utah Law, any public school student who graduates on or after January 1, 2016, must pass a basic civics test as a condition for receiving a high school diploma. Students must correctly answer a minimum of 35 out of 50 questions in order to pass and can take the test as many times as necessary beginning in the 8th grade.

Seniors at Bonneville High School will be taking the initial test during their US Government class. Student who pass with at least a 70% will receive credit for passing the test. If students do not pass it during this testing period, they will be required to set up a time with the testing lab secretary to take the test again. The test must be passed in the presence of a school official.

Below are some links to help students study for the test. It is important to emphasize that students WILL NOT graduate if they have not passed this test. If there are questions, please contact your student's counselor or US Government teacher.

(Remember, you can take this multiple times, but until it is passed in the presence of a school official, it will not count towards graduation.)
